NINE DELEGATES FROM COUNTY TO STATE CONVENTION FROM NINE DISTRICTS

The county central committee on Saturday divided the county into nine districts from which delegates and alternates must be elected by primary to the state convention. Here is a choice for some patriot who wants to be a wooden Indian, a candidate, then a delegate to Columbus to the convention that will last at least two days. The honored one will get to pay all his own expenses which may or may not be an indictment. All the delegates will have to do is to vote yes or no as he is told on resolutions that will be formulated by a committee already picked out by the state committee. If there is any other little thing wanted you are expected to fall in line or be kicked out. These instructions apply to both the Republican and Democratic conventions.

The following are the districts: No. 1, Bath Township, Fairfield and Osborn; No. 2, Cedarville Township, Cedarville Corporation and Ross Township; No. 3, Cedarville and Jefferson Township and Bowersville; No. 4, Miami Township East, Miami Township West and Yellow Springs; No. 5, Silvercreek Township, Jamestown and New Jasper; No. 6, Sugar Creek, Bellbrook, Spring Valley Township, Spring Valley Corporation and Beavercreek; No. 7, Precincts A, B, C, of Xenia City and Xenia Township; No. 8, Precincts D, F, Xenia Township and the village of Xenia; No. 9, Precincts E, G, and H.

Happenings in county politics seem to be few. About the only new development is that J. F. Harshman may have been tipped wrong as an aspirant for county treasurer and will not try the county commission.

Politicians are interested in the announcement that General Keifer and Senator Pomeroy have held the referendum on the Sprague congressional law was invalid in that the government and not the state has jurisdiction in such matters. The state legislature is but the agent of congress. The Sprague act would restrict the state and give the Republicans at least five additional members of congress. Under the referendum last November the voters rejected the measure by a large majority. The unpopularity of the Sprague act is held the cause by prominent Republicans who made an effort to urge the voters to give the party larger active vote is considered an expression antagonistic to Willis rather than a desire to confine the administration in Washington. Senator Pomeroy and General Keifer, two of the leading constitutional lawyers of the state will argue the case before the supreme court.

The bringing of this suit recalls the attitude of Republicans in the county as well as the Seventh district last November when the cry went out to vote in the alternative for the measures under the referendum and thus support Willis' administration. Before election day it was discovered the Fess people, although pretending their support of Willis, were secretly at work against the Sprague measure in that it would reduce the district from nine strong Republican counties to five and make the district close. The Republican majority for this district was the largest in the state, the Democrats having purposely created the district for the benefit of Fess. Other districts bordering were made Democratic and now the Republicans want some of the Seventh counties placed back and insure larger party representation. Fess is fighting the plan feeling that the majority would lessen his chances.

Clinton county, the home of Secretary of State C. Q. Hildebrandt fails to fall in line with an endorsement of Gov. Willis for re-election when the central committee met last Saturday. The committee was strong for Theodore Burton for president, Hildebrandt for re-election and a number of others but Willis failed to connect which is a measure shows how Republican officeholders and appointees about the state house feel over their chief's chance for re-election.

Two things have happened within the past week in reference to the Willis campaign that the situation must be alarming. George W. Shaw, a prominent Republican in Cleveland, has written a challenge to Governor Willis for a public debate on the success of his administration. Shaw says he has nothing personal against Willis but is interested in Republican success this fall. The administration has done nothing whatever for the people. Down in Hamilton county K. W. Durr has been shelved by his own organization because of his support of Willis in the past, especially since the Governor failed to appoint either a dry or wet man common please judge in that county, closing the controversy between the two sides by remaining neutral and "Moist." It was Hamilton county and that famous deal that put Willis in the state house. Durr was the man who was put across the job. He did all he could for his organization but that wasn't much when the boys in the precincts dug up the votes and were not getting recognition. Durr tried to play both ends against the middle in the row and for his part he is to be denied another term as county auditor, which might be some proof that there will be some change between now and election if Willis ever gets the Hamilton county vote again.

BOARD OF HEALTH ADOPTS NEW CODE

The local board of health has adopted a new code as provided under the direction of the State Board of Health. The new laws governing this body and property owners as well, are very strict and the members expect to enter a campaign to enforce them to the letter. The first thing to be done is the publication of a book for the information of the citizens. When there can be no excuse of not knowing the law. The board has gone about this work with a determination to clean up the town and are sure public sentiment is with them. The board has certain powers that will be enforced where property owners refuse to comply. It will be to face a charge in mayor's court or the board can clean up and have the expense taxed against the property. It is to be hoped that no such action will be necessary.

SAYS HE MUST HAVE SOME REST SINCE ENFORCING NEW POSTAL ORDERS

The reports of postal conditions at Richmond, Ind., since the introduction of the R. F. D. Routes took place on January 4, would indicate that the people have not been well pleased by the postmaster of that county. It is not threatening to resign. It has been impossible for the office force to handle the mail and get the new system into operation. The postmaster has given them a service anything like as good as the old. The postmaster has notified the department that he has worked night and day to try to please the patrons and get the mail worked. He has asked for more help and that must be granted, or he threatens to resign. He has health and does not stand the strain much longer. According to the Richmond papers the people simply have no service at all and the tangled up condition in the postoffice has crippled the city service.

WILL GET AN INSPECTOR

Mr. G. E. Jobs is in receipt of a letter from Senator Pomeroy stating that the post office department has promised to send an inspector into this community within a short time where the route will be traveled and the tangled up condition investigated. We suggest that when the inspector comes that a mass meeting be held and every patron be present. It begins to look now as if the authorities down in Washington were going to at least give the patrons a hearing. Probably some of the delay has the fact that ground and found out that election time is near it would be better for the party in power to administer affairs in accord with the desire of the public.

COMMUNICATIONS.

We are always glad to receive communications but we must know the writer, it not being necessary to sign your name. We are not responsible for statements made nor do they reflect our views.

Mr. Editor: I see where some people are advocating paved streets. They are all right but let the people that want them pay for them. It looks to me that the automobile people are the ones that want this improvement, most of those that have machines being in the front for this work. People that want city style should have to pay for it or else move to a city, that's my view. People here can't afford such luxury. We better pay for the monument at the end of North Main street before assessing more costs. Live within your means is a pretty good policy.

ECONOMY.

Cedarville, O., Friday, Feb. 11.
Dear Editor: Let me have a little space to express myself on this rural question. I see by the Xenia Herald that overruling is very and just the department and Senator Pomeroy sent out a circular letter to Cedarville people, that evidently was from Springfield Valley and Bellbrook, answered every objection. The undersigned is not surprised at the Herald's position in that the editor was imported from Springfield Valley and has been given the postmaster's job, though not yet in the harness. The writer has voted the Democratic ticket for a good many years, and true it is only experienced a few Democratic administrations in Washington, but I want to say that I never in my life have seen a Senator did not have competent men to be postmaster in the county seat. This may be true. We are not all capable of being senator but some Greens county could have tried, and like Pomeroy, he would be "good try" at that. Our time for showing our ability will be at the Democratic primary when Pomeroy comes again. It is to be hoped that he will be nominated then we will vote for either Harry Daugherty or Myron Herrick. By the way, how many Democrats have expressed themselves for Pomeroy in this section of the county? If election officials are so concerned with representation and Pomeroy's vote in this section, let them try to give to the prohibition party.

COUNTY GIRLS' CONFERENCE.

The third annual County Girls' Conference will be held in Xenia Saturday and Sunday, February 26 and 27. All Sunday school classes of girls of the local churches are invited to attend. Any girls who are not in Sunday School are also invited to come. All names should be sent to the Xenia Y. W. C. A. not later than Tuesday, February 22, in order that entertainment can be provided. The registration fee will be fifty cents. This includes the Xenia Y. W. C. A. and the Xenia Y. W. C. A. will be present during the conference. The Xenia Y. W. C. A. will be present during the conference. The Xenia Y. W. C. A. will be present during the conference.

THEY'LL SMILE; THEN WHAT?

Farmers will smile when they read the good news that wool will reach forty cents a pound this year, according to a statement published in an Eastern paper that has reviewed the situation. This will be about double the usual price. But the wool growers that have automobiles will not relish the information that gasoline will reach 30 cents a gallon before the summer is over and 24 cents by March first. It is 21 cents now. The crude oil supply in Oklahoma where the great majority of gasoline comes from is falling about 85,000 gallons daily. With gasoline at 30 cents what about the fellow that hasn't any wool to sell?

BOOKWALTER APPRAISEMENT.

The value placed on the John W. Bookwalter estate in Ohio is $909,954.92. The home in Springfield is valued at $310,000; stock in James Lefell company, $181,100. The collection in the Cincinnati Art Museum is valued at $119,800. Several thousand acres of land in Nebraska and Kansas have not been valued.

HUNGARIAN ORCHESTRA.

One of the best known musical organizations of the country will be here as a lecture course number on Friday evening, Feb. 18. This organization became famous during the Chicago World's Fair and has played for the social leaders of Washington and Chicago. The play opens Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock. There will be a demand for seats at this attraction.

—We are making a special discount of 20 per cent on all robes and horse blankets. Whether you need a blanket or not you will find this a good investment for another winter. A complete line of each.

President S. C. Wright of the Community Club has received a letter from Prof. Fred Bird, of the Palashala, O., public schools relative to the re-organization of the Board of Trade under its new name. Mr. Bird makes several suggestions along the line the officials have in mind and which will no doubt be put in force at some future time. Mr. Bird comments favorably on the Centennial celebration as an advanced step for the town and one in which the public should be interested. The letter shows outside interest in what is going on in Cedarville and should be an incentive for some of us here.

THE SIMPLEST WAY IS THE BEST WAY

A. E. LERCHE of Springfield Gives a Recipe for Getting Over the Blues

"If you ever get the blues," he said, "it is well to know the simplest and best way to get rid of them. Crankiness, nervousness and general upset condition preceding the blues usually are due to the relentless grip of constipation on the nervous system. The simplest way to meet this condition is to have a box of Rexall Orderlies in your pocket and the best way is to take one when you feel the attack coming on. It is the finest laxative for men, women and children. I know of and is a regular antidote for the blues—the best ever."

PUBLIC SALE!

OF FARM LANDS
Thursday, February 24, 1916
10 O'clock A. M.

On the above date, there will be sold on the premises, the James M. Barber homestead farm, lying about 2 miles east of Cedarville, on the Barber road. This farm consists of 119 60 acres. The house is a 9 room brick, barn is large barn style, and is easy access from all fields, has open center for hay track. There is also double corn crib and other out buildings. There is permanent pasture with running water; also 19 acres of new ground on the west side of the road. This farm is finely adapted for corn and alfalfa growing.

Here is an excellent opportunity to own your own farm, and have a home located so near to a live town with college, library, churches, high school and splendid markets. To the investor here is an opportunity to make a per acre profit at $25 to $50 with little effort.

OWNERSHIP

This land is now owned jointly by the heirs at law of James M. & Mary Barber, dec'd. Three shares belong to J. Calvin Barber, the merchant of Cedarville, O., he having purchased since the death of his mother, the share of Lee Barber and Mrs. Dinmore Collins. One share belongs to Colin Barber of Cedarville, O., son of the late Charles Barber. The balance belongs to the six living sisters of J. Calvin Barber.

THE SALE

The public is hereby notified that this is a bona-fide sale with no string tied to it.

The Highest Bidder Will be the Buyer

Regardless of certain rumors to the contrary, there is absolutely no agreement among the parties as to the purchaser. The sale will be to and for the public. You are invited to bid on this farm, you will offend no one by so doing. No member of this Barber family will get this land unless you stand by and let him out-bid you, and if you let him get it, he will have to out-bid you if you want it.

The owners of the majority interest live too far away to be interested purchasers, but are naturally interested in having it sold to the highest bidder.

Remember the Sale is on the Farm, February 24, 1916.

at ten o'clock and will be sold by the Sheriff of Greene County, pursuant to an order therefore issued by him out of the Court of Common pleas of said County, in the case in which Jessie Barber Dawes, et. al. are plaintiffs and J. Calvin Barber, et. al. are defendants.

Further information will be gladly furnished by Stafford & Arthur or J. Fred Anderson, Attorneys for plaintiffs, Springfield, Ohio.

INSPIRATION OF THE COUNTY FAIR
By Peter Radford.

"When you enter the agricultural department of the county fair, you feel your soul uplifted and your life takes on a new power—that is the inspiration of the soil. You are overpowered by the grandeur and magnificence of the scene—that is the spirit of the harvest. You can hear the voice of nature calling you back to the soil—that is opportunity knocking at your door. It is a good chance to spend a quiet hour in contact with the purity and perfection of nature and to sweeten your life with its fragrance, elevate your ideals with its beauty and expand your imagination with its power.

These products as food are fit for the gods, and as an article of commerce they ought to bring tip-top prices on any market in the world.

The products of the soil are teachers and preachers as well. Their beauty gives human life its first sustenance, their perfection attests the genius in artists; their purity furnishes models for growth of character and their marvelous achievements excite our curiosity and we inquire into the wonderful process of nature.

Before leaving the parlor of agriculture where rure is parading in her most graceful attire and science is climbing the giddy heights of perfection, let us pause and take a retrospective view. How many of you know that after these wonderful products are raised, they can seldom be marketed at a profit? Take the blushing Elberta, for example—they were fed to the hogs by the carload last year. The onion—the nation's favorite vegetable—every year rots by the acre in the Southwest for want of a market and as a result hundreds of farmers have lost their homes. Cotton—nature's capitalist—often goes begging on the market at less than cost of production.

It is great to wander through the exhibits while the band is playing "Dixie" and boast of the marvelous fertility of the soil and pride ourselves on our ability to master science, but it is also well to remember that there is a market side to agriculture that does not reflect its hardships in the exhibits at a county fair.
